Objective of the Course: The aim of this course is to study the historical development of the economy of Western Culture. Emphasis will be on the study of economic change in various periods in both Western and Eastern Europe. The development and problems of the European Economy throughout the twentieth century will be of major concern in this course. Moreover, repercussions of European economic development upon modern Egypt will be referred to especially the recent events.

Text:

EXAMS & GRADES:
10% Attendance and participation
20% Class presentation
20% Exam I
20% Exam II
30% Final Exam
LEARNING OUTCOMES:

- Differentiate between the study of economics and economic history.
- Appreciate the application of economic theory on the study of economic history.
- Try to understand the differences between apparent and real reasons.
- Understanding that the development of institutions enables the student to understand what he should expect of them.
- Realize that in spite of EU, Europe is diversified.
- Realize the problems that face enlarged EU.
- Examine the repercussions of European Economic Development upon modern Egypt.