LETTER FROM THE DEAN
Sherif Kamel
Since its inception, the AUC School of Business has set the bar high for business education not only in Egypt, but also in the region on the whole. Our commitment to quality, pledge for impact and ever-present sense of responsibility to grooming the future leaders and responsible change agents of tomorrow have inevitably set the pace and paved the way for our future directions.

Our recent history has seen us chart new courses and set new standards of excellence. Eduniversal dubbed the School the best in Africa in 2017 for the very first time since we joined the rankings in 2008, while our Triple Crown accreditation has been reaffirmed and our executive education diplomas remain the only Financial Times-ranked open-enrollment programs in the region.

In our school’s quest to provide students with the highest level of internationalization and quality education, there have been multiple projects and initiatives spearheaded by its constituents on different fronts to endorse its leading position in the region.

Accordingly, we have been selected as the first business school in the Middle East and Africa to join the CEMS Global Alliance in Management Education, which will have us offer the top-ranked CEMS Master’s in Management. We will be the first in the world to pair up with MIT in accepting the MITx MicroMasters in Data, Economics, and Development Policy (DEDP) credential to help students embark on their master’s education. The establishment of the Luqman Weise Capital FinTech Fellowships Fund offers 14 fellowships for Egyptian students to obtain the Master of Science in finance, while Luqman Weise Capital will also be supporting the development of a FinTech concentration at the School under the Master of Science in finance program – the first of its kind in Egypt and among the first worldwide. The establishment of the Hult Prize Egypt Center within our premises will similarly allow us to support and discover young social entrepreneurs throughout Egypt.

Within our continuous efforts to blend world-class education with meaningful business and economic analysis, we have recently launched the dynamic Business Forward content platform. Moreover, the establishment of the Women on Boards Observatory will work on improving the gender balance of corporate boards in Egypt and the MENA region, while the AUC Venture Lab (V-Lab) is working side by side with Hivos to provide advanced co-working spaces in Egypt’s rural communities.

This is just a snapshot of the vibrant and innovative range of initiatives and programs that we have been recently instituting with the aim of developing relevance and leadership in a transforming ecosystem.

It is my honor to return to the AUC School of Business, which has always been an agile, aspiring and transformative establishment. I hope that – with the support and commitment of our distinguished faculty and exceptional staff, the vision and direction of our dedicated strategic advisory board and our enthused and energetic student body – I can support this wonderful institution in its upward trajectory and inspire all of its constituents to another rewarding journey of discovery, innovation and impact.

August, 2017 • The partnership promises to deliver tangible benefits to the startup scene in Egypt through granting entrepreneurs with the education and tools needed to advance their ideas. Within the scope of this cooperation, AMENA Center shall provide mentorship and consultation by business and computer science students to Venture Lab startups as well as promote select VLab startups to investors in Silicon Valley. Along with acting as the main pipeline for startups, the VLab will correspond on structure of tech consulting with AMENA as part of the agreement.

AUC VLAB SECURES HIVOS CO-WORKING FOR SUSTAINABLE EMPLOYMENT GRANT

August, 2017 • The fund is provided to support promising co-working spaces so that they can grow into successful and sustainable business hubs. AUC is leading the selection of the co-working spaces to be supported by the program, along with providing a set of trainings and workshops to support the spaces’ co-founders.

ANGELHACK CAIRO 2017

August 3 - 5, 2017 • AUC V-lab teamed up with AngelHack to bring the hackathons global series to Cairo. The event centered on developing financial products and discovering new technologies that will contribute to financial inclusion, making financial services available and affordable to individuals and businesses. Teams worked on subthemes covering a range of issues from Customer Identification, to digital payments money lending, credit scoring and customer banking experience. The grand prize was an exclusive invite to AngelHack’s HACKcelerator with a chance to fly to Silicon Valley for the Annual Global Demo Day and participate in a week of extensive pitch training, while the Top 5 winners get a place at the final selection panel for a chance to join the FinTech Accelerator Cycle Fall 2017 at AUC Venture Lab, Powered by CIB.
April 30, 2018 • The VLab held its Tenth Demo Day, which celebrates the graduation of one hundred startups since its launch in June 2013. Since inception the AUC VLAB has accelerated 116 startups, providing them with over 1,578 mentoring and training hours, which in turn supported the startups in creating 8.5 million EGP in revenues and rising of 220 million EGP and creating 534 jobs. The Demo Day event offers a chance to meet with and explore the innovative ideas of bright, up-and-coming entrepreneurs. It also provides participants with a chance to meet and network with prominent businessmen and investors.

October 18 - 20, 2017 • AUC Venture Lab collaborated with AfriLabs Annual Gathering, Hivos Co-working Summit, Progs, Wasabi and The French University to bring the Future of African Cities conference to Cairo, with AUC campus hosting the second day of the conference. The collaboration for this conference came as part of the efforts of VLab to enhance the co-working spaces environment through the Co-working for Sustainable Employment (LEAD) program in partnership with Nahdet El Mahrousa and Hivos. The event hosted more than 250 participants from 80 technology and innovation hubs and co-working spaces from 35 African countries.

December, 2017 • AUC launched a strategic partnership for RiseUp Summit where AUC offered its Tahrir Square campus as one of the venues for the summit and supporting the organization of the event. As a strategic partner, the University hosted several sessions at the Tahrir Square campus this year and had a large presence at the summit. Several faculty members and alumni participated as speakers, and students from AUC's Entrepreneurs' Society contributed as volunteers. Attendees also had the opportunity to stop by AUC booth, to meet with representatives of the VLab and other stakeholders.
TAKAFUL 2017: SIXTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE ON ARAB PHILANTHROPY AND CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

October 18 - 19, 2017 • The annual Takaful Research Conference has become a leading opportunity to strengthen a growing network of Scholars and practitioners working in the philanthropic and civic engagement field. Takaful 2017, was sponsored by the Ford Foundation in partnership with the King Khaled Foundation, the Sawiris Foundation for Social Development, Global Compact Network Egypt, the Arab Forum Foundation, J-PAL and Educate Me. The keynote speakers of this year’s event were Yousriya-Loza Sawiris and Hossam Badrawi.

MA’AN REGIONAL COMPETITION

Within the framework on the Ma’an Arab University Alliance for Civic Engagement, the John D. Gerhart Center conducted Ma’an competition on both the local and regional levels. The national competition was open to 40 Egyptian universities and encouraged student groups to present their solutions to social issues in four different areas: women’s empowerment, education, entrepreneurship and human rights. Following the national competition, the Second Annual Regional Competition was held on November 30. The competition, which aimed to acknowledge the efforts and amplify the voices of civil society leaders through providing them with a platform to share their endeavors with specialists in the field, featured 13 universities from across the Arab region – with Egypt, Palestine, Saudi Arabia and Sudan all represented.

FIRST ADVISORY BOARD MEETING OF THE WOMEN ON BOARDS OBSERVATORY

December 18, 2017 • The AUC School of Business and the Egyptian Exchange (EGX) co-organized the first advisory board meeting of the Women on Boards Observatory at the AUC Tahrir Square Campus. The get-together featured representatives from the School of Business, EGX, the Central Bank of Egypt, the National Council for Women, the United Nations Development Programme, the Women and Memory Forum, and the American Chamber of Commerce in Egypt. The meeting was followed by a press conference that overviewed the activities and aims of the Women on Boards Observatory and released gender data for the boards of EGX-listed companies.
Gerhart Center Partners Up with CARE to Establish an Inclusive Platform for the Educational Needs of Egyptian and Syrian Students

February 14, 2018 • With the pledge of creating inclusive long-lasting mediums for youth development and the aim of embedding grass-root initiatives that instill crucial integrative values into up-and-coming generations, the Gerhart Center partnered for CARE in the latter’s aptly named “Access” project. Access is a long-term program that aims to improve Syrian and Egyptian children’s access to formal and informal education through a range of interrelated activities.

As part of the collaboration, Gerhart Center organized trainings in six school camps in Obour City under the title of “Sawa Netgama’a” (roughly translated to “together we gather”). The courses aimed at fully acclimating Syrian students with their fellow Egyptian classmates through group activities that emphasized compassion and understanding.

GERHART CENTER SIGNED PARTNERSHIPS AGREEMENT WITH SAVOLA

March 14, 2018 • The partnership aims to support sponsorship on national social entrepreneurship competition which aims to foster interest in manufacturing by giving the Egyptian University students a chance to share their innovative ideas as well as establish a strong base of youth who are highly motivated to contribute positively to the society and have skills that meet the market demands.

4th CSR Annual Conference on the Impact of Responsible Business on Economic and Social Empowerment and the Second CSR Matchmaking Forum

April 16 - 17, 2018 • The forum highlighted the importance of the presence of productive and profitable enterprises. It also discussed how sustainable enterprises, together with a strong social economy and a viable public sector and civil society, are key tools to achieve equitable, inclusive and sustainable economic development and social welfare.

The event was organized by the International Labor Organization (ILO), the Federation of the Egyptian industries (FEI) in cooperation with the ALEXBANK, Professional Development Foundation (PDF) and Sawiris Foundation for Social Development, with the support of the Global Compact Network Egypt, American Chamber of Commerce, Gerhart Center (AUC), ANIMA Investment Network, BUSINESSMED, COMMUNICATE and RADA.

INTERNATIONALIZATION AND STUDENT LIFE

HIGHLIGHTS

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS LAUNCHES DOING BUSINESS IN THE MIDDLE EAST PROGRAM

October 21 -28, 2017 • As part of its stern emphasis on internationalization, connecting the Arab region with the world and developing cross-cultural understandings, the AUC School of Business initiated its new “Doing Business in the Middle East” program for international students by welcoming a group of MBA students from the University of Stellenbosch Business School (USB).

During the customized and comprehensive weeklong stay, the group, along with accompanying faculty members, were exposed to everything business-related in the Middle East – from entrepreneurship to civic responsibility, supply chain to family business, cultural challenges to data-driven innovation. The group visited select companies, met with senior executives, made visits to government entities, had networking events with alumni and AUC representatives, and visited some of Cairo’s most important historical sites during their visit.

ABIS WORKSHOP: VALUES-DRIVEN LEADERSHIP IN ACTION WORKSHOP

November 27 – 29, 2017 • AUC School of Business hosted the first pilot of the Values-Driven Leadership in Action Programme in Egypt in collaboration with Brussels-based Academy of Business in Society (ABIS). The program is a leadership-development course offered by Africa’s top business schools to organizational leaders with middle or senior management experience. Leaders at these levels of responsibility often know what the right thing to do is, but need to be equipped with the competencies of how to do it in the best way possible. The program aims to build leadership capacity for developing sustainable and ethical businesses across Africa. Successful pilots have already been completed at the University of Stellenbosch Business School in South Africa and Strathmore Business School in Kenya.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS HOSTS CIBER FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM ON INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS IN MENA SPRING 2018

January 4, 2018 • For the second year in a row, AUC School of Business offered the “Faculty Development Program on International Business in MENA” to a delegation of American faculty from Centers for International Business Education and Research (CIBER).

This year, the School played host to 21 representatives from 13 different business schools at AUC New Cairo. The one-day visit was part of a two-week tour to Egypt, Rwanda and Ethiopia designed by CIBER. The program focused on providing participating faculty with a unique international experience that featured business, academic and governmental visits, cultural experiences, and university presentations in international locations.
AUC SCHOOL OF BUSINESS HOSTS HARVARD MBA STUDENTS FOR PANEL ON ENTREPRENEURSHIP IN EGYPT

April 23, 2018 • A group of students from Harvard Business School stopped by AUC during their recent trip to Egypt to hear from Sherif Kamel ’87 ’89, Dean of the School of Business; Ayman Ismail ’95 ’97, Abdul Latif Jameel Endowed Chair of Entrepreneurship, assistant professor and director of the AUC Venture Lab and Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation; Hisham El-Khazindar ’96, AUC trustee and member of the School of Business Strategic Advisory Board; and Ahmed Zahran ’02, CEO and co-founder of KarmSolar. Abdelhameed Sharara, co-founder of RiseUp, moderated the panel. The lecture aimed to introduce Harvard students to the great number of innovative projects crystallizing in Cairo — many of them with roots at AUC.

FIRST DEPUTY MANAGING DIRECTOR OF THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND (IMF) DAVID LIPTON GAVE A PUBLIC TALK ON EGYPT’S ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

May 7, 2018 • Within the School’s aim to develop its student body with knowledge about the world of business, all while adding positive value to society with timely and productive knowledge dissemination led by industry-leading experts, a public lecture titled The Egyptian Economy: Growth and Job Creation was held featuring First Deputy Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) David Lipton. With the Egyptian economy going through a wave of fluctuations since the floatation of the Egyptian pound in November 2016, Lipton’s visit presented a perfect opportunity to understand how the economy’s progress is perceived by one of the world’s largest economic governance institutions. An exclusive one on one interview followed the event with Lipton for the AUC School of Business Knowledge Portal Business Forward.

WHARTON MBA STUDY TRIP TO AUC

July 24, 2018 • AUC School of Business hosted a group of 8 MBA students from Wharton for a half- day visit as part of their study tour to Egypt, the Gulf and India. This trip comes within the group summer course on The Politics of State and Market in MENA. During their time at AUC, the group attended lectures by select faculty followed by a one-hour networking lunch with faculty, senior staff, alumni, MBA/EMBA students and successful VL Lab start-ups.
