Magued Osman is the managing director of the Egyptian Center for Public Opinion Research (Baseera). He is also a professor in the Department of Statistics, Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University. Osman is the founding chair of the Arab Network for Public Opinion Polling Centers and the vice chair of the Arab Union for Statisticians. He previously served as chair of the Egyptian Cabinet of Ministers Information and Decision Support Center from January 2005 to February 2011. He also served as the minister of communications and information technology in the post-revolution caretaker government. Osman has led a number of national surveys in Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates, and has published numerous reports on public opinion research, statistics, demography and governance. He is currently the lead author of the Egypt Human Development Report 2015.